PRESIDENT'S REPORT

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE 2022 REDLAND COAST CHAMBER OF COMMERCE (RCCC)

You will see from the activity listed in this report it has been another active year for The Chamber.

As a committee we reviewed our strategic plan mid-year, through this process we reworded our mission and vision. We also decided that the word "Advocacy" no longer fit with these statements and agreed that the word Champion was more accurate in The Chambers representation of the business community.

I would like to thank the entire executive committee for their tireless work in 2022. Their commitment to moving The Chambers mission and Vision forward has been exceptional, the unwavering support has made being president of this organisation a pleasure and absolute honour.

Thank you to the sponsors and members for allowing me to lead The Chamber the past 3 years. I know that the incoming committee, under Cindy Corrie will continue to successfully represent, you, the business and investment community.

Rebecca Young

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Members of Redland City Chamber of Commerce Inc.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Redland City Chamber of Commerce Inc. set out on pages 6 to 12, which comprise the balance sheet as at 30 June 2022, and the income statement and the statement of changes in equity for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, and the declaration by those charged with governance.

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Redland City Chamber of Commerce Inc. as at 30 June 2022, and its financial performance for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies presented in note 1 to these financial statements.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Entity in accordance with the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional & Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Report

Management is responsible for the preparation of the financial report in accordance with the accounting policies presented in these financial statements and the Associations Incorporation Act 1981 (QLD), and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, management is responsible for assessing the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Entity or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Entity's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial report.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial report is located at the Auditing and Assurance Standards Board website at: <http://www.auasb.gov.au/Home.aspx>. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Basis of preparation and summary of significant accounting policies

The financial statements are special purpose financial statements prepared in order to satisfy the financial reporting requirements of the Associations Incorporation Act (Queensland). The committee has determined that the association is not a reporting entity.

The financial statements have been prepared on the historic cost basis in accordance with the significant accounting policies disclosed below, which the management committee has determined are appropriate to meet the needs of members.

Such accounting policies are consistent with the previous period unless stated otherwise.

1.1 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are carried at cost, independent or management valuation. All assets, excluding freehold land and buildings held for investment, are depreciated over their useful lives.

The depreciation method and useful life used for items of property, plant and equipment (excluding freehold land) reflects the pattern in which their future economic benefits are expected to be consumed by Redland City Chamber of Commerce Inc. Depreciation commences from the time the asset is held ready for use. Any leasehold improvements are depreciated over the shorter of either the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful lives of the improvements.

The useful lives used for each class of depreciable asset are considered to fall within standard parameters. Standard rates of depreciation have been used for each class of asset.

The carrying value of plant and equipment is reviewed annually to ensure it is not in excess of the recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is assessed on the basis of the expected net cash flows that will be received from the asset's employment and subsequent disposal. The expected net cash flows have not been discounted in determining recoverable amounts.

1.2 Financial instruments

Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables are recognised initially at the transaction price (i.e. cost) and are subsequently measured at cost less provision for impairment. At the end of each reporting period, the carrying value of trade and other receivables are reviewed to determine whether there is any objective evidence that the amounts are not recoverable. If so, an impairment loss is recognised immediately in the financial statements.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, demand deposits and other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less. Bank overdrafts are shown in current liabilities on the statement of financial position.

Trade and other payables

Trade payables are recognised initially at the transaction price and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO). In these circumstances, the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of the expense. Receivables and payables in the balance sheet are shown inclusive of GST.

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1.3 Revenue

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised at the point of delivery as this corresponds to the transfer of significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods and the cessation of all involvement in those goods.

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable after taking into account any trade discounts and volume rebates allowed. For this purpose, deferred consideration is not discounted to present values when recognising revenue.

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest rate method, which for floating rate financial assets is the rate inherent in the instrument.

Revenue from the provision of membership subscriptions is recognised on a straight line basis over the reporting period.

All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST).
